

Deloitte host a successful workshop with Dr. Doug Wyles

On Thursday, June 1, the prestigious financial assistance firm of Deloitte welcomed over forty participants in their third workshop by Dr. Doug Wyles of Canada. Anthony Quant of Deloitte expressed there had been excellent response and great satisfaction with the previous workshops conducted by Dr. Quant, and that there had been great interest in his present topic “Improving Coaching Skills and Negotiating Successfully.”

The workshop occupied a full day in the meeting rooms of the Renaissance Convention Center and included a buffet lunch during which there was a great deal of lively discussion.

Dr. Wyles captivated his audience with his entertaining and interactive style of lecture, and the group of businessmen, government employees and students of the EPI that attended the lectures found it stimulating and informative. The management of Deloitte, expressed the belief that “together its collaborators, such as Dr. Doug Wyles, they are contributing towards elevating the skills of our human capital in order to better face the future challenges.”
